INTRODUCTION: THE MARK YOU NEVER KNEW YOU HAD

You go to assembly every Sunday.

You celebrate Christmas and Easter with your family.

You pray to "the LORD" and call upon "Jesus Christ."

You believe in the Trinity—Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

You follow the traditions your pastor taught you, the doctrines your denomination affirms, the calendar your assembly observes.

You think you worship God.

But what if you're worshiping the Beast?

What if everything you were taught—the day you worship, the holidays you keep, the names you use, the doctrines you believe—came not from Scripture, but from the very power that killed the Messiah and changed the times and laws of the Most High?

What if you already have the Mark of the Beast?

The Uncomfortable Truth

Most Christians believe the Mark of the Beast is something future. A microchip. A tattoo. A technology that hasn't been invented yet. Something you'll recognize when it comes and be able to refuse.

But what if the Mark is already here?

What if it's not a physical mark, but a spiritual one?

What if the Mark of the Beast isobedience—obedience to a power that changed the times and laws of Yahuah and demands the world worship onits terms instead of Scripture's?

The Bible gives us the answer. It's not hidden. It's not mysterious. It's clear.

Daniel 7:25 - The Beast Changes Times and Laws

"And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time." (Daniel 7:25)

The Beast power would do three things:

This already happened. It's history, not prophecy.

The Beast is the papacy—the Roman Catholic Church that rose from the ashes of pagan Rome, merged assembly and state under Constantine, and ruled with supreme authority beginning in 538 AD. The 1,260-year tribulation period (using solar year conversion) extended from 538 AD to 1780 AD.

And it DID change the times and laws:

Every single one of these changes came from Rome—not from Scripture.

And Rome admits it. Openly. Proudly. They point to the changed Sabbath as proof of their authority over Scripture.

The Name That Contains the Father's Name

Before we go further, we must address the Messiah's name with precision—because even well-meaning believers get this wrong.

It's not enough to reject "Jesus." Many who leave Christianity for Hebrew Roots adopt "Yeshua" (יֵשׁוּא) thinking they've restored the true name.

But "Yeshua" is insufficient. Here's why:

"I, even I, am the LORD; and beside me there is no saviour."
(Isaiah 43:11)

Yahuah declares He ALONE is Savior. There is no saviorbeside Him. Not a separate savior. Not a second savior. Only Yahuah saves.

Now look at Acts 4:12:

"Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4:12)

There is ONE name for salvation. But here's the problem:

"Yeshua" (יֵשׁוּא) means "He saves" or "Salvation."

It describes theactionbut hides theActor. It credits salvation to "He" (an unnamed savior) instead of explicitly namingwhodoes the saving.

This creates a theological contradiction with Isaiah 43:11. If we use "Yeshua," we imply a separate savior exists—someone other than Yahuah who saves. This violates strict monotheism.

But look at the full Hebrew name:

Yahusha (יהוֹשֻׁאָה) = "Yahuah is Salvation"

"Yahusha" contains the Father's nameYahu(יהוָה) within it. It explicitly attributes salvation toYahuah, not to a separate savior.

This is the ONLY name that satisfies both verses:

The Messiah Himself confirmed this:

"I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive." (John 5:43)

"I come in My Father's name" —Yahushaliterally contains the Father's name (Yahu).

"Jesus" (Greek: Ἰησοῦς, Iesous) does NOT contain the Father's name. Neither does the shortened form "Yeshua" (יֵשׁוּא), which drops the "Yahu" prefix.

Using "Yeshua" may seem like a step in the right direction, but it still obscures the Father's glory. It blocks His name. It creates theological ambiguity aboutwhosaves.

Only "Yahusha" manifests the Father's name while maintaining strict monotheism.

This is not a minor detail. Names in Hebrew carry meaning. The Messiah's name declares the gospel:Yahuah is Salvation.Not a separate savior. Not "He who saves." ButYahuah Himselfsaving through His Anointed One.

Rome changed this name to "Jesus" (through Greek and Latin). Hebrew Roots believers often use "Yeshua" (a shortened, post-exilic form). But Scripture requiresYahusha—the name that contains the Father's name and attributes all salvation to Him alone.

Any other name creates a second savior, violating Isaiah 43:11.

The Question That Changes Everything

Here's the question this book will force you to answer:

If you worship Yahuah on the CHANGED times and laws that the Beast instituted, are you worshiping Yahuah—or are you worshiping the Beast?

If you keep Sunday instead of Sabbath—the Beast changed it.

If you celebrate Christmas and Easter instead of Passover and Tabernacles—the Beast changed it.

If you call on "the LORD" and "Jesus" instead of Yahuah and Yahusha—the Beast changed it.

If you believe the Trinity instead of "Yahuah is one"—the Beast changed it.

Your master is who you obey.

"Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?" (Romans 6:16)

If you obey the Beast's changed times and laws, you are the Beast's servant.

And that is the Mark.

The Mark Is Not What You Think

Revelation 13:16 says the Mark is placed "in their right hand, or in their foreheads."

Most people assume this is a physical mark. But Scripture interprets Scripture.

Look at Exodus 13:9:

"And it shall be for a sign unto thee upon thine hand, and for a memorial between thine eyes, that the LORD's law may be in thy mouth: for with a strong hand hath the LORD brought thee out of Egypt." (Exodus 13:9)

And Deuteronomy 6:8:

"And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes." (Deuteronomy 6:8)

What is being bound on the hand and forehead? Yahuah's commandments.

The hand represents actions.

The forehead represents thoughts and beliefs.

Keeping Yahuah's commandments in your actions (hand) and in your mind (forehead) is the Seal of Yahuah.

The Mark of the Beast is the opposite: Keeping the Beast's changed commandments in your actions and beliefs.

This Book Will Prove It

This is not speculation. This is not sensationalism. This is documented fact, proven by:

This book will prove, beyond any doubt, that:

Why This Matters

Revelation 14:9-10:

"If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, the same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb."

The Mark of the Beast is not a minor issue. It's not about denominational preference or theological debate.

It's about eternal life or eternal death.

If you have the Mark, you will face the wrath of Yahuah—unmixed, undiluted judgment.

If you have the Seal, you will be protected and saved.

Revelation 7:3 says the angels are commanded: "Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads."

The Seal protects. The Mark condemns.

You must choose.

What You'll Learn in This Book

Part 1 will ask the critical question: If the Beast changed times and laws, and you worship on those changed times and laws, are you worshiping the Beast?

Part 2 will identify the Beast using Scripture and history. You'll see that the papacy fulfills every prophetic mark—including the blood of 50+ million saints.

Part 3 will expose the specific changed times and laws: Sunday worship, Christmas/Easter, the replacement of sacred names, the Trinity doctrine, and other Babylonian traditions.

Part 4 will show how the entire world—including Protestant Christianity—has unknowingly taken the Mark by following Rome's changes instead of Scripture.

Part 5 will document the blood of the martyrs—those who refused the Mark and were burned at the stake, drowned, tortured, and killed by the millions.

Part 6will show you how to come out of Babylon, reject the Mark, and receive the Seal of Yahuah by returning to His times and laws.

A Warning and a Promise

This book will challenge everything you believe.

It will force you to question your pastor, your denomination, your traditions, your upbringing.

It will make you uncomfortable.

But it will also set you free.

"And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." (John 8:32)

The truth is this:You have been deceived.The entire Christian world has been deceived. We have been worshiping on the Beast's terms instead of Yahuah's terms. We have been keeping the Beast's times and laws instead of Yahuah's times and laws.

We have the Mark.

But there is still time to repent. There is still time to come out. There is still time to receive the Seal.

"Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues." (Revelation 18:4)

Yahuah is calling His people out of Babylon. Out of the Beast's system. Out of the changed times and laws.

He's calling you.

The question is:Will you answer?

PART 1: THE QUESTION

"And think to change times and laws."(Daniel 7:25)

CHAPTER 1: THE BEAST WHO CHANGED TIMES AND LAWS

Before we can understand the Mark of the Beast, we must first identify the Beast.

Who is this power that would "think to change times and laws"?

The answer is found in Daniel 7—one of the most important prophetic chapters in Scripture.

Daniel's Vision of Four Beasts

Daniel saw a vision of four great beasts rising from the sea (Daniel 7:2-7). These beasts represent four successive world empires:

Every scholar—Protestant, Catholic, Jewish—agrees on these identifications. History confirms them.

But it's the fourth beast we must focus on.

The Fourth Beast: Rome

"After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns." (Daniel 7:7)

The fourth beast is Rome—the iron kingdom, the empire that ruled the known world during the time of Messiah.

Rome executed Yahusha (Jesus). Roman soldiers nailed Him to the stake. A Roman governor, Pontius Pilate, gave the order.

But Rome didn't disappear. It transformed.

The Little Horn: The Papacy

Daniel saw something emerge from the fourth beast:

"I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things." (Daniel 7:8)

This "little horn" has specific characteristics:

Then Daniel gives us the most important detail:

"And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time." (Daniel 7:25)

Let's break down this verse. The little horn would:

1. Speak Against the Most High (Blasphemy)

What is blasphemy? Two things:

The papacy does both.

The Pope Claims to Forgive Sins:

"The priest does really and truly forgive sins in virtue of the power given to him by Christ." —Catholic Encyclopedia, Vol. 12, p. 265

The Pope Claims Divine Authority:

"The Pope is not simply the representative of Jesus Christ. On the contrary, he is Jesus Christ Himself, under the veil of flesh."
—The Catholic National, July 1895

The Pope's Title: "Vicarius Filii Dei" (Vicar of the Son of God):

"The Pope is of so great dignity and so exalted that he is not a mere man... he is as it were God on earth, sole sovereign of the faithful of Christ, chief king of kings, having plenitude of power."
—Prompta Bibliotheca, Vol. VI, p. 25-29

The papacy openly claims to stand in the place of God on earth. This is blasphemy.

2. Wear Out the Saints (Persecution)

"Wear out" means to persecute, harass, and destroy over a long period of time.

The papacy did exactly this:

No other power in history has persecuted believers on this scale for this long.

3. Think to Change Times and Laws

This is the key. The little horn would attempt to change Yahuah's times and laws.

Not just break them. Not just ignore them. Change them.

And the papacy did exactly this:

Rome changed the Sabbath. Rome instituted pagan holidays. Rome replaced the sacred names. Rome created the Trinity doctrine. Rome elevated tradition to the level of Scripture.

Daniel 7:25 is fulfilled in the papacy.

4. Rule for "A Time, Times, and the Dividing of Time"

How long would the little horn rule?

"A time, times, and the dividing of time" =3.5 times

In biblical prophecy, a "time" equals one prophetic year. So:

Using the day-for-a-year principle (Numbers 14:34, Ezekiel 4:6), a prophetic year equals 360 days.

$3.5 \text{ years} \times 360 \text{ days} = 1,260 \text{ prophetic days} = 1,260 \text{ literal years}$

Revelation confirms this same time period multiple times:

All point to the same period:1,260 years.

When did the papacy rule with supreme authority?

Start: 538 AD- Emperor Justinian declared the Bishop of Rome as head of all churches; the last Arian kingdom (Ostrogoths) was defeated, giving the papacy political power.

Understanding the 1,260-Year Prophecy (Solar Year Conversion):

Biblical prophecy uses 360-day prophetic years, but we live by 365.24-day solar years. To find the solar fulfillment:

May 19, 1780 - The Dark Daymarked the end of the tribulation period. The sun was darkened, fulfilling Matthew 24:29 and marking the conclusion of the Beast's 1,260-year reign of terror.

Note on 1798:When Pope Pius VI was taken prisoner by French General Berthier (1798 AD), it marked 1,260literalyears from 538—a "breadcrumb" confirming the starting point, but not the prophetic fulfillment itself.

Daniel's prophecy is precise. Fulfilled. Undeniable.

The Beast Is the Papacy

Let's summarize the identifying marks from Daniel 7:

Only one power in history fits all five marks: The papacy.

The Critical Question

Now that we've identified the Beast and confirmed that it changed the times and laws, here's the question you must answer:

If you worship Yahuah on the Beast's CHANGED times and laws instead of Yahuah's ORIGINAL times and laws, whom are you really worshiping?

If you keep Sunday (the Beast changed it from Sabbath)...

If you celebrate Christmas and Easter (the Beast substituted them for Yahuah's feasts)...

If you use "the LORD" and "Jesus" (the Beast replaced the sacred names)...

If you believe the Trinity (the Beast invented it at Nicaea)...

...are you worshiping Yahuah or the Beast?

"Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey?" (Romans 6:16)

Your master is who you obey.

If you obey the Beast's changed times and laws, you are obeying the Beast.

And that is the Mark.

CHAPTER 2: THE OPPOSITE MARK—YAHUAH'S SEAL

We've established that the Beast changed times and laws, and that obedience to those changed times and laws constitutes the Mark of the Beast.

But there's another mark—an opposite mark.

A seal.

The Seal of Yahuah.

And just like the Mark of the Beast, it's not a physical mark. It's a spiritual one—a sign of obedience to Yahuah's times and laws instead of the Beast's.

The Sign on the Hand and Forehead

In the Introduction, we briefly mentioned Exodus 13:9 and Deuteronomy 6:8. Now let's examine them in detail.

"And it shall be for a sign unto thee upon thine hand, and for a memorial between thine eyes, that the LORD's law may be in thy mouth: for with a strong hand hath the LORD brought thee out of Egypt." (Exodus 13:9)

"And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes." (Deuteronomy 6:8)

What is being bound on the hand and forehead?

Yahuah's commandments.

Look at the context of Deuteronomy 6:8. The verse before it says:

"And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up." (Deuteronomy 6:6-7)

Then verse 8: "And thou shalt bind THEM for a sign upon thine hand."

"Them" =Yahuah's commandments.

The commandments are to be a sign on your hand (actions) and frontlets between your eyes (forehead—thoughts, beliefs).

Hand = Actions

In Scripture, the hand represents action, work, and deeds.

Consider these examples:

When Yahuah's law is a "sign upon thine hand," it means you obey His commandments in practice.

Your actions demonstrate obedience. You keep the Sabbath. You observe His feasts. You speak His name. You do what He commands.

Forehead = Thoughts and Beliefs

The forehead represents the mind, thoughts, and beliefs.

The forehead is the seat of intellect, decision-making, and conviction. What you believe in your mind shows on your forehead—symbolically.

Consider these examples:

When Yahuah's law is a "frontlet between thine eyes" (on the forehead), it means you believe His commandments are true.

You are convinced in your mind. You are not ashamed of His law. You accept it intellectually and spiritually. You think according to His word, not according to man's tradition.

The Seal = Hand + Forehead

Put them together:

Seal of Yahuah = Keeping His commandments in your ACTIONS (hand) and in your BELIEFS (forehead)

You don't just mentally agree with Yahuah's law while living however you want. And you don't just robotically keep rules without believing they're true.

You do both:

The Sabbath as the Sign

Now here's the critical connection: Which commandment does Yahuah specifically call a sign?

The Sabbath.

"Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am Yahuah that sanctify them." (Ezekiel 20:12)

"And hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am Yahuah your Elohim." (Ezekiel 20:20)

The Sabbath is explicitly called a sign—the same word used in Exodus 13:9 and Deuteronomy 6:8 for the commandments on the hand and forehead.

A sign between Yahuah and His people.

A sign that identifies whom you worship.

If you keep the Sabbath (Saturday, the seventh day), you are showing—through your actions and beliefs—that you worship Yahuah, the Creator who rested on the seventh day (Genesis 2:2-3, Exodus 20:11).

If you keep Sunday (the first day, the Beast's changed day), you are showing that you obey Rome, the power that changed the Sabbath.

Revelation 7:3 - Sealed in the Forehead

The book of Revelation confirms this. Before the final plagues fall, an angel cries out:

"Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads." (Revelation 7:3)

The servants of Yahuah are sealed in their foreheads.

Not with a visible mark. Not with a stamp or tattoo. But with obedience to Yahuah's commandments—kept in mind (forehead) and in action (hand).

Compare this to Revelation 13:16:

"And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads." (Revelation 13:16)

Same locations: Hand and forehead.

One is a seal (Yahuah's people). The other is a mark (the Beast's people).

Both are signs of obedience. But obedience to opposite masters.

The Mark vs. The Seal - A Perfect Contrast

Let's lay it out clearly:

It's Not Physical—It's Spiritual

This is crucial to understand: Neither the Seal nor the Mark is a physical mark.

You won't see them with your eyes. You won't scan them at a store. There's no tattoo, no chip, no barcode.

They are spiritual signs that reveal whom you obey.

Just as the Israelites didn't literally strap the Ten Commandments to their foreheads (though some Pharisees later did this ritually with phylacteries), the "sign" on the hand and forehead is symbolic—representing obedience in action and belief.

But the consequences are not symbolic. They are eternal.

Two Groups, Two Marks

Revelation divides all humanity into two groups:

"Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of Yahuah, and the faith of Yahusha." (Revelation 14:12)

The saints:

These are the sealed.

Then there's the other group:

"And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, the same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation." (Revelation 14:9-10)

Those who:

These face the unmixed wrath of Yahuah.

There is no third option. No middle ground. No fence to sit on.

You either have the Seal or the Mark.

The Sabbath Test

Here's why the Sabbath is at the center of this issue:

The Sabbath is the only commandment that identifies which God you worship.

But the Sabbath?

The Sabbath declares: "I worship Yahuah, the Creator, who made heaven and earth in six days and rested on the seventh."

"For in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the LORD blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it." (Exodus 20:11)

Keeping the Sabbath is a weekly declaration that you worship the Creator.

Changing the Sabbath to Sunday is a declaration that you follow Rome's authority instead of Scripture's.

Rome even admits this:

Catholic Admission #1:

"Sunday is our mark of authority... The church is above the Bible, and this transference of Sabbath observance is proof of that fact." —Catholic Record, September 1, 1923

Catholic Admission #2:

"The observance of Sunday by the Protestants is an homage they pay, in spite of themselves, to the authority of the [Catholic] Church." —Monsignor Louis Segur, Plain Talk About Protestantism Today, p. 213

Rome openly declares that Sunday observance is the mark of their authority.

Think about that.

The very institution identified as the Beast in Daniel 7 and Revelation 13 says that keeping Sunday is proof you submit to their authority over Scripture.

And yet the entire Christian world keeps Sunday and thinks nothing of it.

The Seal Protects

Why does Yahuah seal His servants before the final plagues?

Because the Seal protects them.

"Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads." (Revelation 7:3)

The command is clear: Don't hurt the earth until the sealing is complete.

Why? Because those who are sealed will be protected during the outpouring of Yahuah's wrath.

Compare this to the Passover in Egypt:

The Seal functions the same way. It's a sign that you belong to Yahuah, that you obey His commandments, that you are under His protection.

Those with the Mark will face judgment. Those with the Seal will be delivered.

Obedience Is the Issue

Let's bring this full circle:

The Mark of the Beast is not about technology. It's about obedience.

The Seal of Yahuah is not about genetics or nationality. It's about obedience.

"Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey?" (Romans 6:16)

If you obey Yahuah's times and laws, you are Yahuah's servant—and you have the Seal.

If you obey the Beast's changed times and laws, you are the Beast's servant—and you have the Mark.

Your master is who you obey.

Not who you claim to worship. Not who you pray to on Sunday morning while keeping Rome's calendar, Rome's holy days, and Rome's traditions.

Your master is who you obey.

The Call to Come Out

Yahuah is calling His people out of this system:

"Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues." (Revelation 18:4)

"Her" is Babylon. The Beast's system. The false religious structure built on changed times and laws.

If you remain in that system—keeping Sunday, celebrating pagan holidays, using replacement names, believing doctrines invented by Rome—you will receive her plagues.

But if you come out—if you return to Yahuah's times and laws, if you receive His Seal instead of the Beast's Mark—you will be protected.

The choice is yours.

CHAPTER 3: TWO MARKS, TWO MASTERS, ONE CHOICE

We've identified the Beast. We've exposed the changed times and laws. We've explained the Seal of Yahuah and the Mark of the Beast.

Now we must confront the uncomfortable reality:

There is no middle ground.

You cannot serve two masters. You cannot obey both Yahuah and the Beast. You cannot keep both the Sabbath and Sunday. You cannot have both the Seal and the Mark.

This chapter will force you to make a choice—because neutrality is not an option.

Two Masters

Yahusha made this clear:

"No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon." (Matthew 6:24)

The principle applies beyond money. You cannot serve Yahuah and the Beast.

You will love one and hate the other. You will cling to one and reject the other.

Every decision you make reveals which master you truly serve:

Your answers reveal your master.

Your Master Is Who You Obey

Paul stated this plainly:

"Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?" (Romans 6:16)

Notice the structure of this verse:

"To whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are."

Your master is determined by obedience, not by verbal profession.

You can say "Lord, Lord" all you want (Matthew 7:21), but if you obey the Beast's changed times and laws, the Beast is your master.

You can pray to God on Sunday morning, sing worship songs, read your Bible, and call yourself a Christian—but if you're keeping Rome's day, Rome's holidays, Rome's names, and Rome's doctrines, you are serving Rome, not Yahuah.

Obedience, Not Intention

Here's the hard truth: Good intentions don't change who you're obeying.

Many Christians genuinely believe they are worshiping God. They have sincere hearts. They love the Lord (or so they think). They attend assembly faithfully. They tithe. They pray. They read Scripture.

But they do all of this on the Beast's terms.

They worship on Sunday (the Beast changed it).

They celebrate Christmas and Easter (the Beast substituted pagan holidays).

They use "the LORD" and "Jesus" (the Beast replaced the names).

They believe the Trinity (the Beast invented it).

And because they obey the Beast's system—even unknowingly—they are servants of the Beast.

Romans 6:16 doesn't say, "Your master is who you intend to obey."

It says: "Your master is who you obey."

Period.

The Illusion of Neutrality

Some will say: "I'm just trying to worship God. I don't care about Sabbath vs. Sunday. I don't care about Christmas vs. Passover. I'm neutral on these issues."

But neutrality is rebellion.

Look at what Yahuah said to the Israelites when they tried to serve Him and other gods:

"How long halt ye between two opinions? if the LORD be God, follow him: but if Baal, then follow him." (1 Kings 18:21)

Elijah confronted Israel's double-mindedness. They wanted to worship Yahuah and Baal. They wanted to keep one foot in each camp.

Yahuah's response? "Choose."

If Yahuah is God, follow Him. If Baal is god, follow Baal. But stop trying to serve both.

The same applies today:

If Yahuah is your God, obey HIS times and laws. If Rome is your authority, obey THEIR times and laws. But stop pretending you can serve both.

Yahusha's Warning About Lukewarmness

Revelation gives us another picture of this lukewarm neutrality:

"I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth." (Revelation 3:15-16)

Yahusha doesn't want fence-sitters. He doesn't want people who are "kind of" obedient, who keep "some" of the commandments, who worship "mostly" according to Scripture but mix in a little Roman tradition.

He wantshot or cold. Committed or rejected. Obedient or rebellious.

Lukewarm gets spewed out.

You cannot be lukewarm on the Sabbath. You either keep it or you don't.

You cannot be lukewarm on Christmas. You either reject it as pagan or you celebrate it.

You cannot be lukewarm on the sacred names. You either use Yahuah and Yahusha or you use the substitutes.

There is no middle ground.

The Wide Gate and the Narrow Gate

Yahusha also warned about two paths:

"Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereto: Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." (Matthew 7:13-14)

Two gates. Two paths. Two destinations.

The wide gate:Easy. Popular. Comfortable. Accepted by the majority. Leads to destruction.

The narrow gate:Difficult. Unpopular. Costly. Followed by few. Leads to life.

Which path is keeping Sunday? The wide path. Billions of Christians keep Sunday. It's easy. It's mainstream. It's accepted. You can go to assembly, keep your job, fit in with society.

Which path is keeping the Sabbath? The narrow path. Few people keep the Sabbath. It's difficult. It costs you convenience, jobs, social acceptance. You're called legalistic, Judaizer, cult member.

But the narrow path leads to life.

The wide path—no matter how crowded, no matter how comfortable—leads to destruction.

Two Kingdoms

Ultimately, this is a battle between two kingdoms:

Every person on earth belongs to one of these two kingdoms.

You are either sealed by Yahuah or marked by the Beast.

You are either a servant of the Most High or a servant of Rome.

You are either on the narrow path to life or the wide path to destruction.

There is no third option.

The Question You Must Answer

Here's the question this entire book is driving toward:

Whom will you obey?

Will you obey Yahuah, who commands:

Or will you obey the Beast, which changed:

You must choose.

The Cost of Obedience

Let's be honest: Choosing Yahuah will cost you.

If you leave Sunday worship and start keeping the Sabbath, you will face consequences:

If you stop celebrating Christmas and Easter, people will think you're extreme.

If you start using the sacred names (Yahuah, Yahusha), you'll be mocked.

If you reject the Trinity, you'll be called a cultist or even accused of denying the deity of the Messiah (which is false—Yahusha is divine, but He is NOT the Father).

Obedience is costly.

But disobedience costs more.

The Cost of Disobedience

What does disobedience cost?

Everything.

"If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, the same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb." (Revelation 14:9-10)

The Mark of the Beast results in:

Compare that to the temporary cost of obedience—a little mockery, some lost friendships, maybe a job change.

Is it worth keeping Sunday to avoid ridicule if the result is eternal fire?

Is it worth celebrating Christmas to keep family peace if the result is the unmixed wrath of Yahuah?

Choose wisely.

The Martyrs Chose

Throughout history, millions have faced this choice.

The Waldensians chose to keep the Sabbath and reject Rome's authority. Result? 200,000 to 1,000,000 killed.

The Anabaptists chose to reject infant baptism and Rome's traditions. Result? Thousands drowned, burned, tortured.

Jan Hus chose to preach Scripture over assembly tradition. Result? Burned at the stake in 1415.

William Tyndale chose to translate the Bible into English so people could read it. Result? Strangled and burned in 1536.

They all had a choice: Obey Rome and live, or obey Yahuah and die.

They chose Yahuah.

And they are with Him now, while their persecutors face judgment.

Revelation honors them:

"And I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire: and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God." (Revelation 15:2)

Those who refused the Mark, who rejected the Beast's authority, who obeyed Yahuah even unto death—they stand victorious before the throne.

They chose the narrow gate. They chose the right master. They chose obedience.

What Will You Choose?

This book is not just an academic study. It's not just an interesting theological exercise.

It's a call to decision.

You now know:

You cannot claim ignorance anymore.

You cannot say, "I didn't know."

You know.

So what will you do?

Will you come out of Babylon, or will you stay in and receive her plagues?

"Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues." (Revelation 18:4)

Will you reject the Mark and receive the Seal?

Will you obey Yahuah's commandments instead of Rome's traditions?

Will you keep the Sabbath, observe the feasts, use the sacred names, and worship the one true Yahuah?

Or will you continue in Sunday worship, Christmas celebrations, generic titles, and man-made doctrines because it's easier?

The choice is yours.

But choose you must.

Because neutrality is not an option.

End of Part 1

PART 2: IDENTIFYING THE BEAST

"And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns."(Revelation 13:1)

CHAPTER 4: THE BEAST IS NOT FUTURE—IT'S HISTORY

One of the greatest deceptions in modern Christianity is the belief that the Beast of Revelation is still future.

Prophecy teachers fill stadiums teaching that the Antichrist is coming, that the Mark of the Beast will be implemented during a seven-year tribulation, that the Beast will rule from a rebuilt temple in Jerusalem.

It's all wrong.

The Beast is not future. The Beast is history.

And once you see it, you cannot unsee it.

Why the Future Beast Theory Is Dangerous

Teaching that the Beast is future accomplishes something very strategic:It makes people stop looking for it in the present.

If the Beast hasn't arrived yet, if the Mark hasn't been implemented yet, then you can't possibly have it right now.

You can keep Sunday. You can celebrate Christmas. You can use replacement names. You can believe man-made doctrines. And you're safe—because the Mark is still future, the Beast is still coming, and you'll recognize it when it arrives.

This is exactly what the Beast wants you to believe.

If the Beast can convince you it's future, you'll never realize you're already marked.

Daniel's Timeline Is Clear

We already established in Chapter 1 that Daniel 7 identifies four successive kingdoms:

These are historical. Past tense. Already fulfilled.

The "little horn" that rises from the fourth beast (Rome) is also historical:The papacy, which established supreme authority in 538 AD.

This is not speculation. The prophecy is mathematically precise:

Daniel 7:25's "time, times, and the dividing of time" (3.5 prophetic years = 1,260 days) converts to 1,242 solar years when adjusted from 360-day prophetic years to 365.24-day solar years.

Note: The year 1798 (when Pope Pius VI was taken prisoner) marks exactly 1,260 literal years from 538—a "breadcrumb" confirming the start date, but the prophetic fulfillment is the solar-converted 1780 endpoint.

The prophecy is already fulfilled.

Revelation 13 Describes the Same Beast

Revelation 13 gives additional details about this same Beast:

"And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy." (Revelation 13:1)

This Beast has:

Verse 2 continues:

"And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority." (Revelation 13:2)

Notice: The Beast combines elements of all four beasts from Daniel 7:

The papacy inherited the religious systems of all these empires—Babylonian sun worship, Persian Mithraism, Greek philosophy, Roman political power.

The Beast is a continuation of pagan Rome in Christian disguise.

The Deadly Wound That Was Healed

Revelation 13:3 describes a critical event:

"And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast." (Revelation 13:3)

The Beast receives a deadly wound, but it heals.

The Deadly Wound: 476 AD

When was Rome's head wounded to death? 476 AD—the fall of the Western Roman Empire when Romulus Augustulus, the last Roman Emperor, was deposed by Odoacer. The "head" of the Roman beast appeared to receive a mortal blow.

The empire that ruled the world for centuries collapsed. Rome fell.

The Image Given Life: 538 AD

But Revelation 13:14-15 describes how the beast's image is given life:

"And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live." (Revelation 13:14)

538 AD: Justinian's decree established papal authority, and the last Arian opposition was defeated. The papal system—an image of the fallen Roman Empire—received power. Assembly + State merged. The image was given life.

The Wound Healed: 800 AD

When was the wound fully healed? 800 AD—when Pope Leo III crowned Charlemagne as "Holy Roman Emperor" on Christmas Day.

Rome's political power was restored—not through the old empire, but through the papacy. Rome now controlled kings and emperors. The deadly wound was healed.

From 800 AD forward, papal Rome ruled Europe for nearly 1,000 years. The world wondered after the Beast.

What About 1798?

Many assume 1798 (when Napoleon's general imprisoned Pope Pius VI) was the deadly wound. But this misses the prophetic timeline:

The actual deadly wound happened in 476 AD (Rome fell), and it healed in 800 AD (papal Rome rose).

The 42 Months

Revelation 13:5 gives the same time period as Daniel 7:25:

"And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months." (Revelation 13:5)

42 months = 42×30 days = 1,260 days = 1,260 years (day-for-year principle).

Same time period. Same Beast. Same historical fulfillment: 538-1798 AD.

Why This Matters

If the Beast is historical (not future), then:

You cannot wait for a future Antichrist to appear before making a decision.

The Beast is here. The Mark is active. The choice is now.

CHAPTER 5: THE PHARISEES WHO BECAME THE PAPACY

Who killed Yahusha?

The Romans executed Him, yes—but who pushed for it? Who demanded His death? Who screamed "Crucify Him!" when Pilate wanted to release Him?

The Pharisees.

The religious leaders of Judaism. The ones who valued tradition over Scripture. The ones who added to the law, changed the commandments, and burdened the people with man-made rules.

And here's the uncomfortable truth: The Pharisees became the papacy.

Same spirit. Same methods. Same hatred of those who follow Scripture over tradition.

Yahusha's Condemnation of the Pharisees

Read Matthew 23. Yahusha didn't hold back:

"Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in." (Matthew 23:13)

The Pharisees blocked people from entering the kingdom. They created a religious system that led people away from Yahuah's truth.

Sound familiar?

The papacy does the same thing—teaching that salvation comes through the Church, through sacraments, through tradition, not through faith in Yahusha and obedience to Scripture alone.

Tradition Over Scripture

Yahusha confronted the Pharisees for elevating tradition above the commandments:

"Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?... Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition." (Matthew 15:3, 6)

The Pharisees had oral traditions (later written as the Talmud) that they valued as highly as—or higher than—Scripture.

The papacy does the exact same thing:

Catholic Teaching on Tradition:

"The Church does not derive her certainty about all revealed truths from the holy Scriptures alone. Both Scripture and Tradition must be accepted and honored with equal sentiments of devotion and reverence." —Catechism of the Catholic Church, §82

Tradition equal to Scripture. The same error the Pharisees made.

Heavy Burdens on the People

Yahusha condemned the Pharisees for burdening people with endless rules:

"For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers." (Matthew 23:4)

The Pharisees created hundreds of rules and regulations beyond what Scripture commanded.

The papacy mirrors this perfectly:

Heavy burdens. Man-made rules. The Pharisee spirit lives in Rome.

Titles and Exaltation

Yahusha rebuked the Pharisees for loving titles and exaltation:

"But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even the Messiah; and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven." (Matthew 23:8-9)

"Call no man your father."

Yet what does the Catholic Church call its priests? Father.

And the Pope? Holy Father.

A direct violation of Yahusha's command. The same pride and title-seeking that the Pharisees loved.

Whitewashed Tombs

Yahusha's most scathing rebuke:

"Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whitened sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness." (Matthew 23:27)

Beautiful on the outside. Corrupt within.

Describe the Vatican: Gold, marble, art, ceremony, pageantry—beautiful outward appearance.

But within? Scandal after scandal. Sexual abuse cover-ups. Financial corruption. Political intrigue. Pagan doctrines dressed in Christian language.

Whitewashed tombs.

You Killed the Prophets

Yahusha accused the Pharisees of killing the prophets:

"Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets. Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers." (Matthew 23:31-32)

The Pharisees' ancestors killed the prophets who spoke Yahuah's truth.

And what did the Pharisees do? They killed the Messiah.

What has the papacy done? Killed 50+ million believers who refused to submit to Rome's authority.

The Inquisition. The massacres. The burnings. The same murderous spirit that killed Yahusha now operates through Rome.

The Same Spirit, The Same System

The connection is undeniable:

The Pharisees didn't disappear. They evolved. They merged with Rome. They created a new system that looks Christian but operates on the same principles: tradition over Scripture, man's authority over Yahuah's word.

The Beast is the Pharisees in papal robes.

CHAPTER 6: HOW THE BEAST TOOK OVER ROME

Rome didn't become Christian.

Christianity became Roman.

This is the key to understanding how the Beast rose to power.

The Persecution of Early Believers

For the first three centuries, Rome persecuted Christians. Nero blamed them for the fire of Rome (64 AD). Diocletian launched the Great Persecution (303-311 AD), killing thousands.

Believers were thrown to lions, burned alive, crucified. Rome hated Christianity.

Then something changed.

Constantine's "Conversion" (312 AD)

In 312 AD, Emperor Constantine claimed to see a vision of a cross in the sky before the Battle of Milvian Bridge. He supposedly converted to Christianity and made it legal (Edict of Milan, 313 AD).

Christians rejoiced. Persecution ended. The Emperor himself was now "Christian."

But was he?

Constantine's Paganism:

Constantine didn't convert to Christianity. He merged Christianity with paganism and called it "Christian."

The Council of Nicaea (325 AD)

Constantine called the Council of Nicaea in 325 AD—not as a believer seeking truth, but as an emperor seeking unity in his empire.

At this council:

Constantine presided over the council even though he wasn't baptized. A pagan emperor dictating Christian doctrine.

And the bishops went along with it—because now they had political power, wealth, and imperial backing.

Sunday Becomes Mandatory (321-364 AD)

Constantine issued the first Sunday law in 321 AD:

Constantine's Sunday Edict (321 AD):

"On the venerable day of the Sun let the magistrates and people residing in cities rest, and let all workshops be closed." —Codex Justinianus, lib. 3, tit. 12, 3

"The venerable day of the Sun" = Sunday, the pagan day of sun worship.

The Council of Laodicea (364 AD) reinforced this:

Council of Laodicea, Canon 29:

"Christians must not judaize by resting on the Sabbath, but must work on that day... But if any shall be found to be judaizers, let them be anathema from Christ."

Keeping the Sabbath = "judaizing" = anathema (cursed).

Rome officially changed the Sabbath to Sunday and threatened anyone who refused.

The Bishop of Rome Rises (4th-6th Century)

As the Roman Empire weakened, the Bishop of Rome grew stronger:

The papacy now ruled spiritually and politically. The Beast had fully emerged from the ruins of pagan Rome.

Paganism Rebranded

Rome didn't abandon paganism. It baptized it.

Every major pagan practice was repackaged with Christian terminology and absorbed into the Roman Catholic system.

The Beast didn't destroy paganism. It became paganism dressed in Christian robes.

The Dragon Gave the Beast His Power

Revelation 13:2 says:

"And the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority." (Revelation 13:2)

The dragon = Satan operating through pagan Rome (Revelation 12:9).

The dragon gave the Beast:

When pagan Rome fell (476 AD), its power didn't disappear. It transferred to the papacy.

Same city (Rome). Same authority structure. Same claim to rule the world. Just a new religious disguise.

Christianity Became the Beast

Here's the tragedy: Genuine believers existed in the first three centuries. They kept the Sabbath, rejected pagan holidays, refused to worship the emperor, suffered persecution.

But when Constantine "Christianized" Rome, the visible assembly became corrupt. Bishops became politicians. Doctrine became negotiable. Paganism flooded in.

True believers fled to the mountains, the deserts, the edges of the empire. They became the persecuted remnant—the Waldensians, Paulicians, Albigenses, and later the Anabaptists, Lollards, and Reformers.

The institutional assembly—centered in Rome, backed by emperors, enforcing Sunday and pagan traditions—became the Beast.

And it's still here today.

CHAPTER 7: THE SEVEN MARKS OF THE BEAST

Revelation 13 gives us specific identifying marks of the Beast. Not vague clues. Not symbolic riddles. Clear, testable characteristics.

Let's examine all seven and see if the papacy fits—because if it doesn't fit all seven, it's not the Beast.

Spoiler: It fits perfectly.

Mark #1: Rises From the Sea (Among Many Peoples)

"And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea." (Revelation 13:1)

In biblical prophecy, "waters" or "sea" represents many peoples, nations, and languages:

"The waters which thou sawest... are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues." (Revelation 17:15)

The Beast rises in a densely populated area with many nations and languages.

Does the papacy fit?■ YES.

The papacy arose in Europe—the most densely populated, multi-national, multi-lingual region of the ancient world. Rome sat at the crossroads of many peoples.

Mark #2: Has Names of Blasphemy

"And upon his heads the name of blasphemy." (Revelation 13:1)

Blasphemy in Scripture means claiming to be God or claiming to forgive sins (Mark 2:7, John 10:33).

Does the papacy fit?■ YES.

Papal titles include:

Papal Claim to Divinity:

"The Pope is of so great dignity and so exalted that he is not a mere man, but as it were God, and the vicar of God." —Prompta Bibliotheca, Vol. VI, p. 25-29

The Pope claims to forgive sins, claims divine authority, claims the title "Holy Father." This is blasphemy.

Mark #3: Receives Power From the Dragon

"And the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority." (Revelation 13:2)

The dragon (pagan Rome) gives the Beast its power, throne (seat), and authority.

Does the papacy fit?■ YES.

When the Western Roman Empire fell (476 AD), the papacy inherited:

The papal office even retains the pagan title Pontifex Maximus (Supreme Pontiff), the same title held by Roman emperors as high priests of paganism.

Mark #4: Receives a Deadly Wound That Heals

"And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast." (Revelation 13:3)

Does the papacy fit?■ YES.

The deadly wound: 476 AD— The fall of the Western Roman Empire when Romulus Augustulus was deposed. Rome's head received a mortal blow.

The wound healed: 800 AD— Pope Leo III crowned Charlemagne as "Holy Roman Emperor," restoring Rome's political power through the papacy. The world wondered after the Beast.

From 800 AD onward, papal Rome controlled Europe for nearly 1,000 years, fulfilling the prophecy that "his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast."

Mark #5: Speaks Great Things and Blasphemies

"And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies." (Revelation 13:5)

Does the papacy fit?■ YES.

Papal claims include:

Claim to Change God's Law:

"The Pope has power to change times, to abrogate laws, and to dispense with all things, even the precepts of Christ." —Decretal de Translat. Episcop. Cap.

Claim to Divine Authority:

"The Pope is not only the representative of Jesus Christ, but he is Jesus Christ Himself, hidden under the veil of flesh." —The Catholic National, July 1895

Claiming to be Christ, claiming power to change Yahuah's law—this is blasphemy on a cosmic scale.

Mark #6: Makes War With the Saints

"And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them." (Revelation 13:7)

Does the papacy fit?■ YES.

The historical record is undeniable:

Estimated total: 50-100 million believers killed by the papal system over 1,260 years.

No other institution in history has waged war on believers at this scale.

Mark #7: Rules for 42 Months (1,260 Years)

"And power was given unto him to continue forty and two months." (Revelation 13:5)

42 months = 1,260 days (prophetic) = 1,260 years (day-for-year principle).

Does the papacy fit? ■ YES.

538 AD (Justinian's decree + defeat of last Arian kingdom) + 1,260 prophetic years (360-day years) = 538 + 1,242 solar years (365.24-day years) = 1780 AD.

The conversion: $1,260 \times 0.98563 = 1,242$ solar years. The Dark Day (May 19, 1780) marked the tribulation's end with prophetic precision.

Note: 1798 (when the Pope was imprisoned) = 1,260 literal years from 538, serving as a "breadcrumb" confirming the start date.

Perfect Match: Seven Out of Seven

Let's summarize:

Seven out of seven. Perfect fulfillment.

This is not speculation. This is not interpretation. This is historical fact matching biblical prophecy with precision.

The Beast is the papacy. No other institution in history fits all seven marks.

End of Part 2

PART 3: THE CHANGED TIMES AND LAWS

"And think to change times and laws." (Daniel 7:25)

CHAPTER 8: SUNDAY WORSHIP—THE MARK OF ROME'S AUTHORITY

Sunday worship is not a minor preference. It's not a denominational difference. It's not "just one day among seven."

Sunday is the mark of Rome's authority.

And Rome admits it.

What Yahuah Commanded

The Fourth Commandment is crystal clear:

"Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the sabbath of the LORD thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work... For in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the LORD blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it." (Exodus 20:8-11)

The Sabbath is:

There is no command in Scripture to keep Sunday. None. Not in the Old Testament. Not in the New Testament.

Sunday observance is 100% a human tradition.

How Rome Changed It

The change happened gradually:

Over time, the institutional assembly forgot the Sabbath entirely. Sunday became "the Lord's Day," and the original seventh-day Sabbath was labeled "Jewish."

Rome Admits the Change

The Catholic Church openly boasts that they changed the Sabbath as proof of their authority:

Catholic Admission #1:

"Question: Have you any other way of proving that the [Catholic] Church has power to institute festivals of precept?" "Answer: Had she not such power, she could not have done that in which all modern religionists agree with her—she could not have substituted the observance of Sunday, the first day of the week, for the observance of Saturday, the seventh day, a change for which there is no Scriptural authority." —A Doctrinal Catechism, Stephen Keenan, p. 174

Catholic Admission #2:

"Sunday is our mark of authority... The church is above the Bible, and this transference of Sabbath observance is proof of that fact." —Catholic Record, September 1, 1923

Catholic Admission #3:

"The observance of Sunday by the Protestants is an homage they pay, in spite of themselves, to the authority of the [Catholic] Church." —Monsignor Louis Segur, Plain Talk About Protestantism Today, p. 213

Read that again.

Rome says: "Sunday is our mark of authority."

Keeping Sunday is proof that you submit to Rome's authority over Scripture.

And yet billions of Christians keep Sunday and never question it.

No Biblical Authorization for Sunday

Some claim the resurrection justifies Sunday worship. Let's examine the evidence:

Did the apostles change the Sabbath to Sunday? No.

Does "the first day of the week" mean Sunday is the new Sabbath? No.

The phrase "first day of the week" appears 8 times in the New Testament. Not once does it command worship, call it holy, or suggest it replaced the Sabbath.

None of these passages establish Sunday as a day of worship.

Does Colossians 2:16 abolish the Sabbath? No.

"Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days." (Colossians 2:16)

Context: Paul is addressing ceremonial sabbaths (yearly feast sabbaths), not the weekly seventh-day Sabbath. The weekly Sabbath was established at Creation (Genesis 2:2-3), long before the ceremonial law.

The Sabbath Is a Sign

Ezekiel repeats this twice:

"Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am Yahuah that sanctify them." (Ezekiel 20:12)

"And hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am Yahuah your Elohim."
(Ezekiel 20:20)

The Sabbath is a sign that identifies whom you worship.

If you keep the Sabbath (seventh day), you are declaring: "I worship Yahuah, the Creator."

If you keep Sunday (first day), you are declaring: "I submit to Rome's authority."

It's that simple.

The Sunday Law Is Coming

Prophecy indicates that Sunday enforcement will be the final test:

"And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark." (Revelation 13:16-17)

The Mark will eventually be enforced by law. No one will be able to buy or sell without it.

What will that look like? A mandatory Sunday law.

Already, religious and political leaders are calling for Sunday rest laws:

When the final crisis comes, the world will unite in enforcing Sunday worship—and those who refuse will be unable to work, buy food, or participate in society.

The choice will be clear: Obey Yahuah (keep the Sabbath) or obey the Beast (keep Sunday).

CHAPTER 9: CHRISTMAS AND EASTER—BABYLON'S HOLIDAYS

Christmas and Easter are not Christian.

They are pagan holidays baptized with Christian names.

And the evidence is overwhelming.

Christmas: December 25

Yahusha was not born on December 25.

How do we know?

So where did December 25 come from?

Pagan sun worship.

December 25 = Sol Invictus (Birthday of the Unconquered Sun)

December 25 = Saturnalia

December 25 = Birthday of Tammuz/Nimrod

The Catholic Church absorbed these pagan festivals and rebranded them as "Christmas"—the Mass of Christ.

Catholic Admission:

"The well-known solar feast of Natalis Invicti [Birth of the Unconquered Sun], celebrated on 25 December, has a strong claim on the responsibility for our December date." —The Catholic Encyclopedia, 1911 edition, Vol. 3, p. 727

Christmas is not the birth of Yahusha. It's the rebranded birthday of the pagan sun god.

The Christmas Tree: A Pagan Abomination

Jeremiah explicitly condemns the practice of decorating evergreen trees:

"Thus saith the LORD, Learn not the way of the heathen... For the customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman, with the axe. They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not." (Jeremiah 10:2-4)

Sound familiar?

Cut a tree from the forest. Decorate it with silver and gold. Fasten it so it doesn't move.

That's a Christmas tree.

Yahuah calls it "the way of the heathen" and commands:"Learn not the way of the heathen."

Easter: Ishtar the Fertility Goddess

Easter is not the resurrection of Yahusha.

The resurrection happened during Passover, not Easter.

Yahusha was crucified on Passover (14th of Nisan) and rose three days later during the Feast of Unleavened Bread. The timing is clear in Scripture.

So what is Easter?

Easter = Ishtar(Babylonian/Assyrian fertility goddess)

Ishtar / Easter Practices:

The very name "Easter" comes from the pagan goddess. Even the Catholic Church admits the date is not biblical:

Catholic Admission:

"Easter is not a Christian name. It is Chaldean (Babylonian) in origin—the name Astarte, one of the titles of Beltis, the Queen of Heaven." —The Two Babylons, Alexander Hislop, p. 103

Sunrise Services: Abomination

Ezekiel saw a vision of Israel's abominations. One stood out:

"And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD's house, and, behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east." (Ezekiel 8:16)

They turned their backs to Yahuah's temple and worshiped the sun at sunrise.

What do Christians do on Easter Sunday? Sunrise services.

Same abomination. New name.

What Yahuah Commanded Instead

Yahuah gave His own holy days in Leviticus 23:

These are Yahuah's appointed times. Not Christmas. Not Easter.

Rome replaced Yahuah's feasts with pagan holidays and called them "Christian."

And the whole world follows Rome.

CHAPTER 10: "THE LORD" AND "JESUS"—ROME'S NAME REPLACEMENT

Names matter.

In Hebrew culture, names carry meaning. They reveal identity, character, and purpose.

So when Rome replaced the sacred names with generic titles, it wasn't a minor translation issue.

It was spiritual theft.

The Father's Name: Yahuah (■■■■)

The Father's name appears 6,828 times in the Hebrew Bible.

It's the most frequently used name in Scripture.

The name is spelled with four Hebrew letters: Yod-Hey-Waw-Hey (■■■■), pronounced Yahuah.

This is not a title. It's a name.

"I am the LORD: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another." (Isaiah 42:8)

Yahuah says: "That is my name."

Not "the LORD." Not "God." Yahuah.

How "The LORD" Replaced Yahuah

The replacement began with Jewish tradition.

During the Second Temple period, Jewish scribes stopped pronouncing the name Yahuah out of fear of violating the Third Commandment ("Thou shalt not take the name of the LORD thy God in vain").

They substituted "Adonai" (Hebrew for "Lord") whenever they read ■■■■■ in Scripture.

Over time, the pronunciation was lost. The Masoretes (Jewish scribes AD 600-1000) added vowel points from "Adonai" to the consonants of ■■■■■, creating the hybrid "Jehovah"—a name that never existed.

When Christianity adopted the Greek Septuagint and Latin Vulgate, they continued the substitution:

The name was erased.

Why This Matters

Yahuah Himself said:

"And I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, by the name of God Almighty, but by my name JEHOVAH was I not known to them." (Exodus 6:3)

(Note: "JEHOVAH" in the KJV is a mistranslation; the Hebrew is ■■■■■, Yahuah.)

Yahuah wanted His name known. He revealed it to Moses. He commanded it to be proclaimed.

"That men may know that thou, whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the most high over all the earth." (Psalm 83:18)

His name alone is Yahuah.

Replacing it with "the LORD" hides His identity and gives His glory to a generic title that can refer to anyone.

The Son's Name: Yahusha (■■■■■)

We covered this in the Introduction, but it bears repeating:

The Messiah's name is Yahusha(יְהוֹשָׁעַ), meaning "Yahuah is Salvation."

It contains the Father's name (Yahu) within it, fulfilling John 5:43:"I am come in my Father's name."

How did "Yahusha" become "Jesus"?

The name "Jesus" has no meaning in Hebrew. It's a transliteration of a transliteration of a transliteration.

And it hides the Father's name.

Rome's Role in the Name Change

Rome enforced Latin as the language of the assembly. The Latin Vulgate (translated by Jerome, 382-405 AD) replaced Hebrew names with Latinized versions.

When the Catholic Church spread, so did the Latin names. Eventually, "Jesus" became so universal that the original "Yahusha" was forgotten.

This fulfilled prophecy:

"They have forgotten my name... which their fathers have forgotten for Baal." (Jeremiah 23:27)

"Baal" means "lord." The Israelites forgot Yahuah's name and replaced it with "Baal" (lord).

The same thing happened in Christianity. Yahuah's name was replaced with "the LORD."

Acts 4:12 Requires the Actual Name

"Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4:12)

There is one name for salvation.

If the name matters, then using the correct name matters.

"Jesus" is not the name given under heaven. Yahushah is.

CHAPTER 11: THE TRINITY—NICAEA'S PAGAN DOCTRINE

The Trinity doctrine—the belief that God is three co-equal, co-eternal persons (Father, Son, Holy Spirit) in one being—is not found in Scripture.

It was invented at the Council of Nicaea in 325 AD, formalized at the Council of Constantinople in 381 AD, and enforced by Rome under penalty of death.

And it contradicts the most fundamental truth of Scripture: Yahuhah is ONE.

What Scripture Teaches

"Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God is one LORD." (Deuteronomy 6:4)

Not three. One.

"I am the LORD, and there is none else, there is no God beside me." (Isaiah 45:5)

No God beside Him. Not a second person. Not a third person. One.

"And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true Elohim, and Yahusha the Messiah, whom thou hast sent." (John 17:3)

Yahusha prays to the Father and calls Him "the only true God."

Not "we, the triune God." The Father alone is the only true God.

Where the Trinity Came From

The Trinity doctrine has pagan origins:

Babylonian Trinity:

Egyptian Trinity:

Hindu Trinity:

Virtually every pagan religion has a triune god concept.

When Constantine "Christianized" Rome, he brought this pagan theology into the assembly.

The Council of Nicaea (325 AD)

Constantine called the Council of Nicaea to settle the Arian controversy.

Arius, a presbyter in Alexandria, taught that the Son was created by the Father and was not co-equal or co-eternal. This aligned with Scripture.

But Constantine wanted unity in his empire, and the majority of bishops— influenced by Greek philosophy— favored the idea that the Son was co-equal with the Father.

The Nicene Creed was drafted, declaring the Son "of one substance with the Father."

Dissenters were exiled. Books were burned. The Trinity became official doctrine.

The Trinity Violates Monotheism

The Trinity claims:

But if all three are fully God, and all three are distinct persons, then you havethree Gods, not one.

The Trinity tries to solve this by saying they are "one in essence" but "three in person."

This isnotwhat Scripture teaches. It's Greek philosophy (Plato's triadic concepts) imposed on Scripture.

Yahusha Is Not the Father

We established this in the Introduction, but it's worth repeating:

Yahusha is theSon, not the Father.

You cannot be subject to yourself. You cannot pray to yourself. You cannot sit at your own right hand.

The Father and Son are distinct. The Son is divine (he is the image of the invisible Yahuah, Colossians 1:15), but He isnotthe Father.

The Set-Apart Spirit Is Not a Person

The Hebrew word for "spirit" isruach(שְׁרוּאַךְ), which means "breath" or "wind."

The Spirit is Yahuah's power, presence, and breath—not a separate person.

The Spirit is not a third person. It's Yahuah's presence dwelling in believers.

Deuteronomy 13:1-4 Test

We worship Yahuah alone:

"Thou shalt fear the LORD thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name." (Deuteronomy 6:13)

Worship goes to the Father, not to the Son.

The Son intercedes. The Son mediates. The Son is worthy of honor. But ultimate worship belongs to Yahuah alone.

The Trinity confuses this by saying we worship all three persons equally—but that violates the Shema (Deuteronomy 6:4).

CHAPTER 12: OTHER BABYLONIAN TRADITIONS

Sunday, Christmas, Easter, the Trinity—these are the major changes.

But Rome changed much more.

This chapter catalogs additional Babylonian traditions that Rome absorbed and baptized as "Christian."

1. Prayers to the Dead (Necromancy)

Rome teaches that believers should pray to dead saints and Mary.

Scripture forbids this:

"There shall not be found among you... a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer. For all that do these things are an abomination unto the LORD." (Deuteronomy 18:10-12)

Praying to the dead is necromancy—communicating with the dead. It's an abomination.

The dead know nothing (Ecclesiastes 9:5). They cannot hear prayers. Only Yahuah hears prayer.

Pagan origin: Rome absorbed ancestor worship and prayers to dead heroes from paganism.

2. Mary as "Queen of Heaven"

The Catholic Church gives Mary titles and roles that belong only to Yahuah:

But Yahuah condemns worship of the "Queen of Heaven":

"The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger." (Jeremiah 7:18)

Pagan origin: "Queen of Heaven" was a title for Semiramis (Babylon), Ishtar (Assyria), Isis (Egypt), and other pagan goddesses. Rome rebranded the goddess as Mary.

3. Celibacy of Priests

Rome requires priests to remain celibate (unmarried).

Scripture commands the opposite:

"A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife." (1 Timothy 3:2)

Paul explicitly warns against forbidding marriage:

"Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; speaking lies in hypocrisy... Forbidding to marry." (1 Timothy 4:1-3)

Forbidding marriage is a doctrine of demons.

Pagan origin:Celibacy was practiced by pagan priests in Rome (Vestal Virgins), Egypt, and Eastern religions.

4. Confession to a Priest

Rome teaches that believers must confess sins to a priest to receive forgiveness.

Scripture teaches we confess directly to Yahuah:

"If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." (1 John 1:9)

There is one mediator between Yahuah and man:

"For there is one Elohim, and one mediator between Elohim and men, the man Messiah Yahusha." (1 Timothy 2:5)

Not a priest.Yahusha alone.

Pagan origin:Confession to priests was practiced in pagan mystery religions (Babylon, Egypt, Greece).

5. Purgatory and Indulgences

Rome invented "purgatory"—a place where souls are purified after death before entering heaven.

Then they sold "indulgences" (payments to reduce time in purgatory).

This is nowhere in Scripture.

Hebrews is clear:

"And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment." (Hebrews 9:27)

Death, then judgment. No intermediate purification. No second chance.

Pagan origin:Purgatory concepts existed in Greek philosophy (Plato) and pagan religions (prayers for the dead, offerings for the deceased).

6. Transubstantiation (The Mass)

Rome teaches that the bread and wine literally become the body and blood of Christ during the Mass—and that the Mass is a re-sacrifice of Christ.

Scripture says Christ was sacrificed once:

"But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God." (Hebrews 10:12)

One sacrifice. Forever. Not repeated daily in the Mass.

Pagan origin:The idea of eating the flesh of a god was practiced in pagan mystery cults.

7. Infant Baptism

Rome baptizes infants who cannot believe or repent.

Scripture requires belief before baptism:

"He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mark 16:16)

Infants cannot believe. Therefore, infant baptism is unbiblical.

Pagan origin: Infant dedication and ritual washing were practiced in pagan Rome and Egypt.

8. Statues, Icons, and Relics

Rome venerates statues, icons, and relics (bones of dead saints).

The Second Commandment forbids this:

"Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath... Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them." (Exodus 20:4-5)

Rome removed the Second Commandment from their catechism and split the Tenth into two to keep the number at ten.

Pagan origin: Idol worship and veneration of relics were universal in pagan religions.

9. Rosary Beads

The rosary is a string of beads used for repetitive prayers (Hail Mary, Our Father).

Yahusha condemned repetitive prayers:

"But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking." (Matthew 6:7)

Pagan origin: Prayer beads were used in Hinduism, Buddhism, and Islam long before Catholicism adopted them.

10. The Pope's Authority

Rome claims the Pope is the "Vicar of Christ" (substitute for Christ on earth) with authority to:

But Yahusha gave this authority to no man.

"But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even the Messiah; and all ye are brethren." (Matthew 23:8)

No human has authority over the assembly. Only Yahusha.

Pagan origin: The title Pontifex Maximus (Supreme Pontiff) was held by Roman emperors as high priests of paganism. The Pope inherited this title.

Summary: Babylon Rebranded

Every major Catholic doctrine and practice has pagan roots:

Rome didn't abandon Babylon. Rome is Babylon with a Christian mask.

Revelation calls it "MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS" (Revelation 17:5).

And her daughters—Protestant churches that kept Rome's Sunday, Christmas, Easter, and Trinity—are the harlots who came out of her but still keep her traditions.

End of Part 3

PART 4: THE WORLD WORSHIPS THE BEAST

"And all the world wondered after the beast." (Revelation 13:3)

CHAPTER 13: HOW CHRISTIANS UNKNOWINGLY TOOK THE MARK

The average Christian has no idea they have the Mark of the Beast.

They love the Lord. They pray. They read their Bibles. They try to live godly lives.

But they worship on Sunday. They celebrate Christmas and Easter. They call on "the LORD" and "Jesus." They believe in the Trinity.

And because of this, they unknowingly bear the Mark.

Sincere, But Wrong

Most Christians are sincere. They genuinely believe they are worshiping Yahuah.

But sincerity doesn't change truth.

The Israelites were sincere when they worshiped the golden calf while Moses was on Mount Sinai. They even said, "These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt" (Exodus 32:4).

They thought they were worshiping Yahuah—just in a different form.

But Yahuah didn't accept it. He called it idolatry and killed 3,000 people (Exodus 32:28).

Ignorance Is Not an Excuse Forever

Paul writes:

"And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent." (Acts 17:30)

Yahuah overlooks ignorance—for a time.

But once you know the truth, you are responsible to obey it.

You are reading this book. You now know:

You are no longer ignorant.

What will you do with this knowledge?

Obeying Rome = Worshiping the Beast

Romans 6:16 is clear:

"Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey?" (Romans 6:16)

If you obey Rome's changed times and laws, you are Rome's servant.

Even if you don't realize it. Even if you claim to worship Yahuah. Even if you attend a Protestant church that left Rome 500 years ago.

Obedience determines your master.

The Protestant Reformation Was Incomplete

In the 1500s, reformers like Martin Luther, John Calvin, and Ulrich Zwingli broke away from Rome.

They rejected papal authority. They rejected indulgences. They proclaimed "sola scriptura" (Scripture alone) and "sola fide" (faith alone).

But they didn't go far enough.

They kept:

Luther even admitted he knew the Sabbath was the seventh day but chose to keep Sunday anyway because he didn't want to appear "Jewish."

The Reformation was a step in the right direction—but it stopped halfway. Protestants came out of Rome politically but stayed in Romedoctrinally.

Revelation 18:4 - Come Out

"Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues." (Revelation 18:4)

Yahuah calls His people to come out of Babylon.

Not just out of the Catholic Church. Out of the system—the changed times and laws, the traditions of men, the pagan holidays dressed as Christianity.

Protestants came out of Rome's political control, but they're still in her system.

Sunday worship? That's Babylon.

Christmas trees? That's Babylon.

Easter eggs? That's Babylon.

You must come all the way out.

CHAPTER 14: PROTESTANT REFORMATION—INCOMPLETE

The Protestant Reformation began with a bold act: Martin Luther nailing his 95 Theses to the church door in Wittenberg on October 31, 1517.

It sparked a revolution. Millions left the Catholic Church. Nations broke free from papal control. The Bible was translated into common languages.

But the Reformation stopped too soon.

What the Reformers Got Right

The reformers deserve credit for restoring important truths:

These were monumental achievements. They saved countless souls from Rome's false gospel of works and sacraments.

But they kept Rome's changed times and laws:

They reformed theology but kept Rome's times and laws.

And that's the Mark.

Luther on the Sabbath

Martin Luther knew the Sabbath was the seventh day. He wrote:

Luther's Admission:

"The Sabbath was before the law of Moses came, and has existed from the beginning of the world. Especially have the devout, who have preserved the true faith, met together and called upon God on this day." —Auslegung des Alten Testaments

He acknowledged the seventh-day Sabbath existed from Creation and was kept by the faithful.

So why didn't he restore it?

Luther feared appearing "Jewish." He wrote:

Luther's Excuse:

"If you wish to observe the Sabbath or any other day, do so for love's sake... But if you wish to establish it as a law, as the Jews do, I will oppose you." —Against the Heavenly Prophets

Luther knew the truth but refused to fully obey it.

This is the tragedy of the Reformation:They knew better, but didn't go far enough.

The Anabaptists Went Further

One group did go further: the Anabaptists.

They rejected:

Some Anabaptist groups also kept the seventh-day Sabbath and rejected pagan holidays.

And what happened to them?

Both Catholics AND Protestants killed them.

Luther called for their execution. Zwingli drowned them. Calvin burned Michael Servetus at the stake for rejecting the Trinity.

The reformers killed those who dared reform more than they did.

Revelation 17:5 - Mother and Daughters

"And upon her forehead was a name written, MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH." (Revelation 17:5)

Rome is the mother of harlots.

Who are the daughters?

Protestant churches that came out of Rome but kept her doctrines.

They protested Rome's authority, but they kept:

They are harlots—unfaithful to Yahuah, still clinging to Babylon's traditions.

CHAPTER 15: THE COMING ENFORCEMENT

The Mark is already here—Sunday worship, pagan holidays, changed doctrines.

But Revelation prophesies a future enforcement:

"And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name."
(Revelation 13:16-17)

The Mark will eventually be enforced by law. No one will be able to buy or sell without it.

What will that look like?

A Universal Sunday Law

Prophecy indicates that the final enforcement will center on Sunday worship.

Why Sunday?

Because Sunday is Rome's mark of authority. The Catholic Church openly declares this.

When the final crisis comes, the world will unite in enforcing Sunday observance—and those who refuse (Sabbath keepers) will be unable to work, buy food, or participate in society.

Signs of the Coming Enforcement

We're already seeing the groundwork being laid:

Papal Calls for Sunday Rest:

European Sunday Laws:

Climate Change Movement:

The pieces are in place. The narrative is being built. Sunday enforcement is coming.

The Final Test

When Sunday laws are enforced, humanity will face a final test:

Will you obey Yahuah (keep the Sabbath) or obey the Beast (keep Sunday)?

Those who keep the Sabbath will be persecuted:

Revelation 13:15 says:"And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed."

The death penalty for refusing Sunday worship.

Revelation 14:12 - The Saints Endure

But Yahuah's people will stand firm:

"Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of Yahuah, and the faith of Yahusha."

(Revelation 14:12)

The saints:

These are the sealed. These will be protected during Yahuah's wrath. These will inherit eternal life.

CHAPTER 16: ROME'S OWN ADMISSION

You don't have to take my word for it.

Rome openly admits they changed the Sabbath, instituted pagan holidays, and claim authority over Scripture.

Let's let them speak for themselves.

Admission #1: Sunday Is Our Mark of Authority

—Catholic Record, September 1, 1923

Rome declares Sunday is theirmark of authority.

And every Christian who keeps Sunday—Catholic or Protestant—acknowledges Rome's authority over Scripture.

Admission #2: Protestants Honor Our Authority by Keeping Sunday

"The observance of Sunday by the Protestants is an homage they pay, in spite of themselves, to the authority of the [Catholic] Church."

—Monsignor Louis Segur, Plain Talk About Protestantism Today, p. 213

Rome mocks Protestants for claiming "Scripture alone" while keeping Rome's Sunday.

And they're right. It's a contradiction.

Admission #3: We Changed the Sabbath, Not Christ

"Question: Have you any other way of proving that the [Catholic] Church has power to institute festivals of precept?"

"Answer: Had she not such power, she could not have done that in which all modern religionists agree with her—she could not have substituted the observance of Sunday, the first day of the week, for the observance of Saturday, the seventh day, a change for which there is no Scriptural authority."

—A Doctrinal Catechism, Stephen Keenan, p. 174

Rome admits there is no Scriptural authority for Sunday observance.

Yet they did it anyway—and the whole Christian world follows them.

Admission #4: Christmas Is Pagan

"The well-known solar feast of Natalis Invicti [Birth of the Unconquered Sun], celebrated on 25 December, has a strong claim on the responsibility for our December date."

—The Catholic Encyclopedia, 1911 edition, Vol. 3, p. 727

Rome admits Christmas (December 25) came from the pagan sun god festival—not from Scripture.

Admission #5: The Pope Can Change God's Law

"The Pope has power to change times, to abrogate laws, and to dispense with all things, even the precepts of Christ."

—Decretal de Translat. Episcop. Cap.

Rome claims the Pope has authority to change the precepts of Christ.

This is exactly what Daniel 7:25 prophesied: "And think to change times and laws."

Admission #6: The Pope Is God on Earth

"The Pope is of so great dignity and so exalted that he is not a mere man, but as it were God, and the vicar of God."

—Prompta Bibliotheca, Vol. VI, p. 25-29

Rome claims the Pope is "as it were God" on earth.

This is blasphemy—claiming to be God (Revelation 13:5-6).

They're Not Hiding It

Rome doesn't hide their changes. They boast about them.

They changed the Sabbath—and they're proud of it.

They instituted pagan holidays—and they admit it.

They claim authority over Scripture—and they declare it openly.

The evidence is overwhelming. The admissions are public. The prophecy is fulfilled.

The Beast is the papacy. The Mark is obedience to Rome's changed times and laws.

And billions of Christians unknowingly bear it.

End of Part 4

PART 5: THE BLOOD OF THE MARTYRS

"And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth."(Revelation 18:24)

CHAPTER 17: THOSE WHO REFUSED THE MARK

Throughout the 1,260 years of papal supremacy (538-1798 AD), millions refused to bow to Rome's authority.

They kept the Sabbath. They rejected pagan holidays. They refused to pray to saints or worship Mary. They preached Scripture over tradition.

And Rome killed them.

The Waldensians (12th-17th Century)

The Waldensians were a group of believers in the Piedmont valleys of northern Italy who preserved biblical Christianity through the Dark Ages.

They:

Rome declared them heretics and launched crusades against them.

The Piedmont Massacre (1655):Catholic and French troops slaughtered entire villages. Men, women, and children were burned alive, thrown from cliffs, tortured to death.

Estimated deaths: 200,000 to 1,000,000 over several centuries.

Their crime? Refusing Rome's Mark. Keeping Yahuah's times and laws instead of the Beast's.

The Albigenses (13th Century)

The Albigenses (also called Cathars) were believers in southern France who rejected Catholic doctrines.

Pope Innocent III launched the Albigensian Crusade (1209-1229) to exterminate them.

The Papal legate famously said at the siege of Béziers: "Kill them all. God will know His own."

The city was burned. 20,000 people were slaughtered in a single day.

Total deaths: Hundreds of thousands.

The Anabaptists (16th-17th Century)

The Anabaptists were radical reformers who rejected infant baptism, state churches, and violence.

Many also kept the Sabbath and rejected Christmas and Easter.

Both Catholics AND Protestants persecuted them:

The Martyrs Mirror (1660) documents thousands of Anabaptist martyrdoms with gruesome detail.

Notable martyr: Dirk Willems (1569)— Escaped from prison across a frozen lake. His pursuer fell through the ice. Dirk turned back and saved his life. The man he saved arrested him anyway. Dirk was burned at the stake.

Bible Translators

Rome forbade Bible translation into common languages. They wanted Scripture locked in Latin so only priests could read it.

Those who dared translate the Bible were hunted, tortured, and killed:

These men gave their lives so you could read Scripture in your own language.

Revelation 17:6 - Drunk With Blood

"And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Yahusha: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration." (Revelation 17:6)

The woman (Rome) is drunk with the blood of the saints.

Not a few saints. Not a symbolic number. Drunk—intoxicated, saturated, overflowing with the blood of millions.

Revelation 18:24 confirms:

"And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth." (Revelation 18:24)

All that were slain upon the earth.

Rome is responsible for more Christian deaths than any other institution in history.

CHAPTER 18: THE INQUISITION—ENFORCING THE MARK

The Inquisition was Rome's official system for rooting out and destroying "heretics"—anyone who refused to submit to papal authority.

It lasted 650 years (1184-1834).

What Was the Inquisition?

The Inquisition was a church court with legal authority to:

There was no defense. No appeal. No escape.

Once accused, you were presumed guilty. Torture was used to force confessions. If you recanted your "heresy," you were strangled before being burned. If you refused to recant, you were burned alive.

The Auto-da-Fé (Act of Faith)

Public executions were called "auto-da-fé"—theatrical ceremonies where heretics were paraded through the streets, sentenced by the Inquisitor, and burned at the stake in front of cheering crowds.

Entire families attended as entertainment.

The most famous auto-da-fé took place in Toledo, Spain (1683). Francisco Rizi's painting depicts the scene: hundreds of victims, Cardinals in scarlet robes, the Inquisitor presiding, stakes prepared for burning.

Torture Devices

The Inquisition invented horrifying instruments of torture:

All of this was done in the name of Christ.

But it wasn't Christ. It was the Beast.

The Spanish Inquisition (1478-1834)

The Spanish Inquisition was the most brutal and longest-lasting.

Under Tomás de Torquemada (Grand Inquisitor 1483-1498):

The Spanish Inquisition continued until 1834—even after Napoleon's capture of Pope Pius VI in 1798. It only ended when Spain secularized and stripped the Church of its power.

Total Death Count

How many did the Inquisition kill?

Exact numbers are impossible to determine (Rome destroyed many records), but historians estimate:

Add the Waldensian massacres, Albigensian Crusade, Anabaptist persecutions, St. Bartholomew's Day Massacre, and countless other papal atrocities:

Estimated total: 50-100 million believers killed by the papal system during the 1,260 years.

This Is the Beast

Revelation 13:7 prophesied:

"And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them." (Revelation 13:7)

The Beast makes war with the saints.

Not a future Antichrist. Not a one-world government. The papacy.

For 1,260 years, Rome waged war on those who refused the Mark—and killed them by the millions.

CHAPTER 19: MODERN PERSECUTION COMING

The Inquisition ended. Papal temporal power was broken in 1798. The age of martyrdom is over, right?

Wrong.

Revelation prophesies a final persecution before Yahusha returns.

Revelation 13:15 - The Death Decree

"And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed." (Revelation 13:15)

Those who refuse to worship the image of the Beast (refuse the Mark) will be killed.

This is future. It hasn't happened yet.

When Sunday laws are enforced globally, those who keep the Sabbath will face a death decree.

Why Will They Kill Sabbath Keepers?

The final crisis will likely be framed as a global emergency—climate change, economic collapse, natural disasters.

Religious and political leaders will unite and declare: "God is judging the world because people aren't keeping Sunday holy. We must enforce Sunday rest to appease God and save the planet."

A universal Sunday law will be passed. Those who refuse will be blamed for the crisis.

Sabbath keepers will be labeled:

Eventually, a death decree will be issued:"Kill the Sabbath keepers, and God's judgment will stop."

Revelation 12:17 - War on the Remnant

"And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of Yahuah, and have the testimony of Yahusha the Messiah." (Revelation 12:17)

The dragon (Satan) wages war on the remnant—those who keep the commandments of Yahuah (including the Sabbath) and have the testimony of Yahusha.

This is the final battle. The last test. The ultimate choice between the Seal and the Mark.

But Yahuah Protects His People

Revelation 7:3 promises:

"Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads." (Revelation 7:3)

The final plagues will not fall until Yahuah's people are sealed.

Those with the Seal will be protected. Those with the Mark will face the wrath of Yahuah.

The death decree will be passed, but before it's executed, Yahusha will return (Revelation 19:11-16) and destroy the Beast and his followers.

Are You Ready?

The final persecution is coming. Sunday laws will be enforced. Sabbath keepers will be hunted.

Are you ready to stand?

Are you ready to lose your job, your home, your freedom?

Are you ready to face a death decree for keeping Yahuah's Sabbath?

Revelation 14:12 describes those who endure:

"Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of Yahuah, and the faith of Yahusha." (Revelation 14:12)

Patience. Endurance. Faithfulness unto death.

The question is: Will you be among them?

End of Part 5

PART 6: COME OUT AND BE SEALED

"Come out of her, my people." (Revelation 18:4)

CHAPTER 20: COME OUT OF BABYLON

Yahuah's final call to His people is clear:

"Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues." (Revelation 18:4)

Come out of Babylon.

Come out of the Beast's system.

Come out of the changed times and laws.

Come out NOW—before the plagues fall.

What Does "Come Out" Mean?

Coming out of Babylon doesn't just mean leaving the Catholic Church.

It means leaving the entire system—rejecting every doctrine, practice, and tradition that Rome instituted contrary to Scripture.

You must come out of:

Partial obedience is not enough. You must come all the way out.

This Is Urgent

Revelation 18:4 gives the reason for urgency:

"That ye receive not of her plagues."

Babylon's plagues are coming. Revelation 18 describes them:

Those who remain in Babylon—those who keep Rome's changed times and laws—will receive Babylon's plagues.

But those who come out will be sealed and protected.

2 Corinthians 6:17 - Separate

"Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you." (2 Corinthians 6:17)

Yahuah calls for separation.

You cannot blend truth and error. You cannot mix Scripture and tradition. You cannot serve Yahuah and the Beast.

You must separate. Come out. Reject Babylon entirely.

The Cost of Coming Out

Coming out will cost you:

But staying in costs more.

Staying in costs eternal life.

CHAPTER 21: RETURN TO THE SABBATH

The first step in coming out of Babylon is returning to the Sabbath.

The Sabbath Commandment

"Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the sabbath of the LORD thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work... For in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the LORD blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it." (Exodus 20:8-11)

The Sabbath is:

How to Keep the Sabbath

Sabbath begins at sunset Friday and ends at sunset Saturday (Genesis 1:5, "evening and morning").

On the Sabbath:

Prepare on Friday (cooking, cleaning, shopping) so Sabbath is restful.

What About Work?

Many jobs require Saturday work. What do you do?

Yes, this may cost you a job. Yes, it's inconvenient. But obedience to Yahuah is worth more than a paycheck.

Daniel refused to eat the king's food (Daniel 1:8). Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego refused to bow to the image (Daniel 3:18). They risked their lives for obedience.

Will you risk your job for the Sabbath?

CHAPTER 22: REJECT PAGAN HOLIDAYS

The second step is rejecting Christmas, Easter, and all pagan holidays.

Stop Celebrating Christmas

Christmas is not the birth of Yahusha. It's a baptized pagan festival (Sol Invictus, Saturnalia, Tammuz).

Jeremiah 10:2-4 explicitly condemns Christmas trees.

What to do instead:

Stop Celebrating Easter

Easter is Ishtar—a pagan fertility goddess festival. The resurrection happened during Passover, not Easter.

What to do instead:

Observe Yahuah's Feasts

Yahuah gave seven annual feasts in Leviticus 23:

These are Yahuah's appointed times. They are prophetic. They are holy. And they're still in effect.

CHAPTER 23: USE THE SACRED NAMES

The third step is using the sacred names—Yahuah and Yahusha.

Stop Using "The LORD"

"The LORD" is a title, not a name. It hides Yahuah's identity.

Start using Yahuah(■■■■■)—His actual name, which appears 6,828 times in Scripture.

Stop Using "Jesus"

"Jesus" is a Greek/Latin transliteration that has no meaning and hides the Father's name.

Start using Yahusha(■■■■■■)—"Yahuah is Salvation"—the name that contains the Father's name and fulfills John 5:43.

What About Others?

When you use the sacred names around other believers, you'll get pushback:

Stay firm. Explain why names matter. Point to Scripture. And continue using Yahuah and Yahusha.

Over time, some will listen. Some will investigate. Some will come out of Babylon and join you.

CHAPTER 24: RECEIVE THE SEAL OF YAHUAH

The final step is receiving the Seal of Yahuah.

What Is the Seal?

The Seal is obedience to Yahuah's commandments—kept in your actions (hand) and beliefs (forehead).

Specifically, the Sabbath is the sign/seal:

"Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am Yahuah that sanctify them." (Ezekiel 20:12)

When you keep the Sabbath, observe the feasts, use the sacred names, and obey Yahuah's word—you receive the Seal.

Revelation 14:1 - The 144,000

"And I looked, and, lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads." (Revelation 14:1)

The 144,000 havethe Father's name in their foreheads.

This is the Seal. They keep Yahuah's commandments (including using His name). They are sealed for protection during the final plagues.

Revelation 7:3 - Sealed Before the Plagues

"Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads." (Revelation 7:3)

The Seal protects Yahuah's servants during the seven last plagues (Revelation 16).

Those without the Seal will face:

But those with the Seal will be protected—just as the Israelites were protected during the plagues in Egypt.

How to Receive the Seal

The Seal is not automatic. It requires active obedience and faithfulness unto death.

End of Part 6

CONCLUSION: THE CHOICE

You've reached the end of this book.

You now know the truth:

You can no longer claim ignorance.

You now face a choice.

The Choice

Will you keep the Mark or receive the Seal?

Will you continue keeping Sunday—Rome's mark of authority—or will you return to the Sabbath?

Will you celebrate Christmas and Easter—pagan holidays baptized with Christian names—or will you observe Yahuah's feasts?

Will you call on "the LORD" and "Jesus"—titles that hide the sacred names—or will you use Yahuah and Yahusha?

Will you believe the Trinity—a doctrine invented at Nicaea—or will you believe "Yahuah is ONE"?

Your decision determines your eternal destiny.

Revelation 14:9-10 - The Warning

"If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, the same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb." (Revelation 14:9-10)

Those who keep the Mark will face:

Revelation 14:12 - The Promise

"Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of Yahuah, and the faith of Yahusha." (Revelation 14:12)

Those who receive the Seal will:

The Time Is Now

Sunday laws are coming. The final enforcement is near. The Beast's wound healed in 800 AD, and papal power continues to this day. The world still wonders after the Pope.

Soon, you will not have a choice. The Mark will be enforced by law. Those who refuse will be unable to buy or sell. Eventually, they will face a death decree.

But today, you still have time.

Today, you can choose.

Today, you can come out of Babylon.

"Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues." (Revelation 18:4)

Choose Yahuah

Joshua confronted Israel with the same choice:

"Choose you this day whom ye will serve... but as for me and my house, we will serve Yahuah." (Joshua 24:15)

Choose Yahuah.

Keep His Sabbath. Observe His feasts. Use His name. Obey His word.

It will cost you. You will be mocked. You will lose friends. You may lose your job. You may face persecution.

But you will gain eternal life.

Final Appeal

This book is a warning and a call.

A warning: You already have the Mark if you keep Rome's changed times and laws.

A call: Come out of Babylon. Receive the Seal. Choose Yahuah.

The choice is yours.

But choose quickly.

Time is running out.

"And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." (Revelation 22:17)

Come.

BOOK 6 OF THE END TIMES MASTER SERIES

You already have it.”

Everyone is watching for a future Mark—a microchip, a barcode, a biometric scan. Menoying, billions already bear the Beast's brand in their hand (actions) and forehead (beliefs).

The Mark of the Beast is Sunday worship. It's the papal calendar (Christmas, Easter, "Good Friday)". It's the changed Sabbath from the 7th day to the 1st. It's allegiance to Rome's counterfeit system instead of Yahuah's Torah.

If you keep Sunday, you have the Mark. If you call Him 'Jesus' and 'the LORD' instead of Yahusha and Yauluah, you have the Mark. This book proves it from Scripture—and shows you how to remove it before the final warning expires.

INSIDE THIS BOOK:

- What the Mark actually is (Sunday = sun worship)
- The historical change from Sabbath to Sunday
- Why microchip theories are a dangerous distraction
- The Seal of Yahuah vs. the Mark of the Beast
- Step-by-step exit plan from Babylon's Mark

“And the third angel followed them, saying... If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark...and receive his mark... the same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God...”
